

About Us

We provide care to disabled adults and frail, elderly clients who need a safe, protective environment because of illnesses such as stroke, Alzheimer's or Parkinson's Disease.

Our seniors participate in activities and socialize with others in a secure setting designed to help maintain or improve their functional level. They attend during the day, enabling them to stay active, remain productive and enjoy an improved quality of life.

Caregivers also benefit from our services in that they receive some respite from caring for a dependent adult. They are given free time that they can use to continue their employment, run errands, or care for themselves or other family members.
